The subject of our thesis is the speech about the shallow character which overspread in the novel of the last century, specially in Flaubert’s.

Sallowness is not only specialized for Flaubert’s heroes; we can attribute this word to the majority of the heroes of the 19th century novel, yet, we must know that no one was fidget in representing such shallowness like Flaubert.